

A SENSIBLE VIEW.

On returning from a visit to the Indian reservations in New Mexico, Colorado and Arizona, recently, Senator Logan expressed the opinion that the Indian problem would never be fully solved until some means are employed by which every strong and able-bodied Indian can earn his own living. There is wherein the General shows his head to be eminently level. The sickly sentimentality with which the Indian policy has been conducted for years, instead of a benefit, has been an absolute curse to the Indians. It is not the fault of the Indians that they have failed to adapt themselves to the changes wrought by advancing civilization, and long since been able to maintain themselves without the aid of the Government, but by the unwise policy which has characterized that branch of the service. The custom has been to place them upon reservations with little or no facilities for agricultural pursuits, and to place over them some individual who knows as little of the Indian's nature and characteristics, as a Chinaman does about the Christian religion, and who seemed to think that the proper thing to do was to teach the Indian to observe the Christian Sabbath and sing psalms, while Uncle Sam fed and clothed him. It is gratifying to know that one Senator, at least, has made up his mind to urge upon Congress the necessity of a reform in this particular. This is the Indians' native country and he has rights that must be respected, the principal one being that of having guaranteed to him sufficient good land and knowledge of agricultural pursuits to enable him to make his own living.

A Mammoth Cave in Tennessee.

The recently-discovered cave at the base of Lookout Mountain, opening at low water mark of the Tennessee river, three miles from Cadiz, has developed into a wonderful cave of unknown depth. At the extreme point of exploration a very large lake was encountered, into which a full 150 feet high poured its water with the noise of thunder. Other waterfalls and other interesting phenomena were discovered.

Some months ago an application was made to Hon. Robert Lincoln, Secretary of War, for permission to erect a Catholic church on the Presidio Military Reservation in California. The request was refused, and among other reasons given by the Secretary for the refusal was one case in particular, that appeared to have been originally a harmless license, but which subsequently developed into a claim for a whole Military reservation, with all the Government buildings, which had cost the Government $3,000. The case referred to by Mr. Lincoln was the St. James Mission, establishment in what is now Washington Territory, in 1866, and which received its land patents from the Hudson Bay Company. The United States military authorities did not claim the land until more than ten years later, and when the matter was referred to the Court the decision was in favor of the Mission.

Still another claimant to the honor of having been the youngest enlisted soldier in the war of the rebellion is William McF. Greer, Jr., a druggist of San Francisco, whose papers show that he was born in St. Louis in 1850, and December 31, 1861, he enlisted for three years as a musician in Captain Bazard's company, D, First regular corps of engineers, Missouri, and received his discharge January 3, 1865.

The New York Times in commenting on the difficulties encountered by southern journalists commends to them the example of the Red Bluff editor who while confined in jail on a charge of murder, forms a partnership with the sheriff, and edits his paper in the prison cell. He is secure from the duns and the complaints of readers, is well cared for, and has every convenience but liberty.

It is stated that Samuel J. Tilden has given $50,000 towards the Democratic campaign fund for the Ohio election. This is the gentleman who, through the columns of the New York Sun, declines to be a candidate for the Presidency.

Knights Templar.

Ex-Governor, Geo. C. Perkins, Grand Commander, Knights Templar, of California, has issued the following general orders:

SAN FRANCISCO, August 8, 1883. To all Knights Templar who may be in this jurisdiction in connection with the twenty-second Triennial Conclave of the Grand Encampment; GREETING: You are hereby forbidden to enter any saloon or other place where intoxicating liquors are sold in the city of San Francisco, either in Templar uniform or wearing Templar emblems or badges so exposed as to invite attention. Eminent Commanders of the several subordinate Commanderies in this jurisdiction will cause this order to be promulgated and they will be expected to see that the same is strictly enforced. Grand Commanders of sister jurisdictions are courteously requested to issue such order to their representative Commanderies in attendance as shall make this order effective.

GEORGE C. PERKINS,
Grand Commander.

Attest:
T. H. CASWELL, Grand Recorder.

Bangles Prohibited

Detective Finnegan, of the United States Secret Service, acting under instructions from the Chief of Division at Washington, has taken possession of three sets of dies, used for striking off golden dollars and half dollars, which are sold as bangles, charms, etc. They were taken from the jewelry establishment of H. J. Brand, at 230 Kearney street, San Francisco, and have been forwarded to Washington. Notice of the unlawfulness of such coinage was given some time ago, and a quantity of the coins, dies, etc., have been seized in the southern part of the State. All persons engaged in the practice are laying themselves liable to prosecution by the government, United States District Attorney Hilborn holding that it was violation of section 5461 of the Revised Statutes, which decision is sustained by the Solicitor of the Treasury.

Pirates on the Black Sea.

Information reached London on the 9th from the Straits of Yenikale, one of the most dangerous passages in the Black sea, that an individual named Francesca, a former pilot, of Italian origin, was at the head of a band of pirates of various nations—English, Italians, Greeks and Russians—who make their living by disasters on the coast. They were in collusion with the pilots and charged large sums for assisting vessels which the pilots allowed to go ashore. In less than two years fifty vessels were stranded and had to rely on assistance from these pirate salvors. The English insurance companies paid indemnities amounting to many millions of pounds. A great many disasters occurred in calm weather, and other suspicious circumstances were noticed, such as fortunes rapidly made by some of the pilots.

It Didn't Work.

An action was commenced some months ago, says the Bee, against Whiting, Recorder of Plumas county, to oust him from office, and the Superior Court gave judgment to that effect. The case was appealed, and the Supreme Court last week decided that he is entitled to the office. This was one of the cases, we believe, resulting from some alleged irregularity in the classification of certain counties, and the defeated Democratic candidates expected to be awarded the offices, on the ground that—their opponents not being entitled to the offices—those receiving the next highest number of votes would be awarded the spoils. This Plumas case is one in which the "turn the rascal-out" theory has not worked to the greatest satisfaction of the hungry outsiders.

Some Good Advice.

A clergyman arose to address a Sunday school class, and to gain time to arrange his thoughts, he began: "Well, what sort of a speech shall I make?" following the query with an appropriate pause, and intending to go on with the lines which he had selected. To his astonishment a hand went up in the back part of the room. Thinking that a choice by the scholars might suit them and help him, the little fellow was given leave to speak, and the good man was taken entirely by surprise when the laconic answer came, "Make a short one."

The most healthy and popular drink of the season is the ice cold soda water sparkling with purest gas and flavored with true, delicious fruit syrups, to be had only at Queen's soda fountain.

Timely Caution.

The San Francisco Board of Health are making timely efforts to prevent the influx of cholera and other infectious diseases into that port. All the African and Asiatic ports have been declared infectious, and all vessels arriving in San Francisco from any of them must undergo quarantine. New quarantine grounds were selected in Mission Bay, three miles from the coast, and the Quarantine Officer has been instructed to strictly enforce all laws. A communication was read setting forth that two members of King Kalakaua's band, who will participate during the Conclave, are lepers. The authorities were also notified by Consul Mosby that two vessels have been quarantined in Hongkong infected with cholera, several having died; also, that during the last six weeks cholera has spread two thousand miles: and would soon be in Yokohama.

Over the Channel by Rail

Certain French and English capitalists have conceived the idea of constructing a railroad bridge over the English channel. A bill asking certain privileges of the French Government has just been brought forward by M. Achard. The promoters of the scheme ask only from the State the control of soundings already made in order to accurately determine the nature and consistency of the bottom of the sea and the depth of the water along the line proposed to be followed, and that they claim neither a subvention nor a guarantee of interest. The preamble points out that the success of the enterprise would prevent the diversion of the routes of transit from India and the East, and would create between England and France a veritable bond of union and a policy of mutual cordial agreement.

We Wouldn't Have It

General Meigs has charge of the erection of the new Pension Office building in Washington. A Boston terra cotta company has the contract for furnishing the material of that character to be used in the new building. The other day there arrived in a car load of terra cotta costly vases, with a note from the President of the company saying the vases were intended as a present to General Meigs. The vases were taken to General Meigs residence. As soon as the wagon stopped, and he was told of the presents, there was some fun. He talked very warmly and ordered them to be taken away and shipped back to Boston at the expense of the sender. He also wrote a note to the President of the company which was still warmer than his talk.

A Confessed Perjurer.

Mentz Scharf, the boy who was the principal witness for the prosecution in the recent trial of a number of Jews at Nyregghaza, charged with murdering a girl in order to secure her blood for ritual purposes, and who swore he saw the murder committed, has confessed that his testimony was false in every particular. He hopes to escape punishment by showing the authorities that his testimony was given under duress, and by giving the names of the parties who persuaded him to thus swear falsely.

Closing the Highway.

It is said that Largomisin has closed up the new road leading from Caine's ranch to Steamboat. The road, it seems was established by the Commissioners over Largomisin's ranch on the petition of farmers in that locality and with his consent. He asks the county to pay for the land, which is refused. Hence the trouble.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon the Palace Restaurant will serve to its customers a French chicken and turkey dinner, and if you want a genuine feast, take it in.

MISCELLANEOUS.

SLIGHT ODDS.

A Little Story With a Large Moral
—One Man Who Knew his own Business.

"No, my dear," said the venerable keeper of a country store to a timid little girl whose head scarcely came up to the level of the counter. "No, my dear, we haven't any old flannel, but we have some first rate New Orleans molasses." Softly hinting that she didn't think that would answer the purpose quite as well, the child went her way in search of the article she wanted. "Have you BENSON'S CAPSICUM PLASTER?" asked a gentleman of a certain druggist whose name could be given were it desired. "I am troubled just now with a touch of my old friend, the lumbago, and the Benson's Plaster seems to go to the spot almost as soon as it touches the skin." "Not at present," replied the druggist, gently, "but, we have lots of plasters just as good. There is Allcock's, the Capsecum and others—won't one of them do as well?" "My dear sir," retorted the gentleman, with a slight show of temper, "I say nothing against those articles, but I am a business man, and always ask for precisely what I want, and for nothing else. I may enlighten you, however, when I say that sometimes ago, for another disease, of which the Capsicum has since cured me, I tried all those you mention, with no appreciable benefit. They are inefficient, every one of them, the meaning act of the proprietors of some of them being this that they make plasters with similar sounding names to deceive the unwary into believing they are the same thing. Experience taught me no different, I'll go to the next man in your line. Good day." Be on your guard against imitations. The genuine has the word CAPSICUM clearly in the middle of the plaster. All others are impositions. Seabury & Johnson, Chemists, New York.
